

SoloPro®

A profitable alternative to cash

Handling cash negatively affects your cash flow. Human errors, theft, labor costs and other factors erode your profits and can slow down your business.

Now you can improve your cash flow quickly and easily where stored value smartcards are used to print documents and make copies in copy shops, print rooms or libraries, buy food in cafeterias and snack bars, make purchases at vending machines in factories, your office, hospital or sports hall and a host of other daily transactions formerly involving cash.

Create a smart cashless enterprise with a simple, secure and profitable solution

Key benefits SoloPro

- Improved cashflow
- more revenue
- lower costs
- enhanced customer service
- simplified operation

SoloPro® is engineered as a budget friendly cashless payment solution for busy Copying and Printing services that, on demand, can also be extended to other applications, including Vending and Cafeteria.

Simple and secure

With no complicated software to install and administer and no requirement to get expensive IT resources implemented, you can now maximize your efficiency and put income on your bottom line without the usual hassle and expense.

Welcome to the World of Cashless Payment solutions with SoloPro from Magna Carta, recognized pioneers in smartcard technology development, delivering an advanced smartcard service ideal for your business needs, now and in the future, packaged to be simple to deploy on sites of any size.

Smartcards can cut costs and increase efficiency in colleges, health clubs, cafeterias, copy centers, offices, factories and any other enterprise looking for a low cost way to go cashless. The solution can be scaled to fit your organization and your budget and can be installed with minimum disruption to your existing operations.

Scalable to your business needs

Using contactless smartcard technology, anonymous cards are equipped to store personal cash and can be customized to offer special privileges to up to three selected user groups, including discounts and allowances.

Cards can be supplied fully printed or plain white. A complete design service can be offered to feature logos, brands and advertising messages.

High quality terminals are supplied that are specifically designed to connect to most makes and models of copiers, printers and multi-functionals from all leading manufacturers. Cash registers and vending machines can also be included, if required. A range of card revaluation options include both operated and self service card reload stations. In addition, information can be collected on sales levels at all service points with a PDA.

Due to flexible and modular design, all hardware components are supplied pre-configured to your requirement and ready to install. As your business grows, your system can grow too, to the level where it could be up-graded to FacilityPro, Magna Carta's fully networked multi-application smartcard enterprise with personalized cards and detailed reporting.

SoloPro payment terminals are available in a range of styles

One terminal with multiple options....

Copying

- connects to a wide range of copiers, printers and multifunctionals
- selects from a range of price lines
- copying allowances available for privileged users

Magna Carta solutions have been deployed and endorsed by many major brand copier manufacturers who value the deployment of card based payment solutions at equipment available for use in libraries, copy shops, schools, colleges and universities. Advice and support can be offered on installation requirements at specific machine types with cards featuring either a currency (cash) or copy value. Terminals are easy to set up and the prices charged for copies can be changed on demand. If required, certain groups of card holders can be offered specific privileges where one can choose from a discount on the price charged, an allowance of free copies or a copying budget.

Networked printing

- operates with leading networked print management software brands
- supports Apple and Windows based operating systems
- supports an extensive range of printer languages

As PC generated printing continues to spiral in volume, SoloPro is the ideal solution to reduce waste through enforcing a policy of "Pay and Collect" at dedicated networked release stations. SoloPro has already been configured to operate with print management solutions from a range of suppliers including Pcounter, Pharos, PaperCut, DocRelease, Maggy and more. Development resource is also available if your preferred system has not yet been included. Printing allowances can also be offered to specific groups of users, especially popular when managing both staff and student demands for printing in an education environment.

SoloPro cashier

- Windows based card revaluation software
- secure cashier log on and detailed audit trail
- supplied with card reader and unique site code

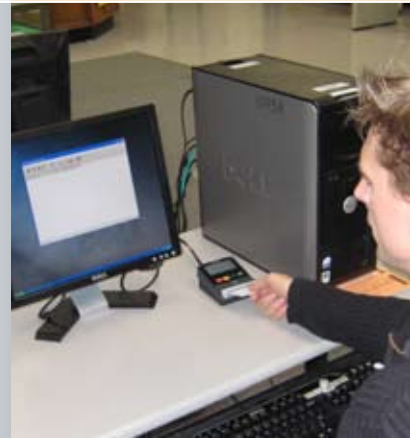

SoloPro Tower

- connects to most copiers/printers
- accepts both cards and or coins as payment
- can also be used to revalue cards

Self service card reload station

- available accepting notes and/or coins
- built to order options include card dispenser and receipt printer
- configurable to accept a range of currencies

SoloPro terminals can also be connected to most vending machines and cash registers

You can depend on Magna Carta to provide the professional services you need for a successful SoloPro implementation.

Over a decade of expertise in the world on unmanned payment systems and transaction security has positioned Magna Carta at the forefront of card solutions in both the education and corporate world.

International success with FacilityPro, Magna Carta's powerful multi-purpose smartcard solution, has seen a market base expand to include a range of versatile and technically innovative installations. From Privium iris scan equipment in use at passport control at Schiphol, one of the world's largest airports, to the development of smartcard terminals for public transport schemes in The Netherlands and Germany. From controlling student and staff access to facilities at key universities in The Middle East and Europe, to feeding staff in some of the most advanced technology plants in the UK.

Now SoloPro delivers a valuable entry level for cashless payment deployment on a budget, with the scope to up-grade, at any time, to a fully featured, on-line FacilityPro enterprise, already an established success in over 400 installations worldwide.

Distributed and supported internationally through a talented network of reseller partners, we are fortunate to have such a team of experienced professionals who can take you through every level of the process of building a cashless enterprise. A complete installation, commissioning and after-sales support service is also offered.
